Dear Baby Trend Customer:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Baby Trend, Inc. has determined that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in some of the bases for the Baby Trend 6400 Series Infant Car Seats manufactured between May 2007 and April 2008. Our records indicate that you purchased a Baby Trend child restraint system with a base that may have been manufactured during that period.

If you have a Latch-Loc Car Seat Base for Baby Trend 6400 Series Infant Car Seats pictured below (Model #6400S Standalone Base; Model #6448 Silverado Car Seat; Model #6481 Galaxy Infant Car Seat; Model #6439 Magnum Car Seat), your unit is covered by this recall.

MODEL 6400S Standalone Base
MODEL 6448 Silverado Infant Car Seat

MODEL 6481 Galaxy Infant Car Seat
MODEL 6439 Magnum Infant Car Seat

Baby Trend is recalling the car seat base used with its Model #6400 Series Car Seats due to use of incorrect steel on the latch connector locking pawl. Although the car seat base is in compliance with Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards, during Baby Trend's rigorous testing it was determined that the latch component may fail in the event of a vehicle accident if the car seat is used for children over 22lbs, contrary to product instructions.
